AUSTRIAN EMPEROR DIES

London, November 22 (3:41 a. m.)—Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, died last night at nine o'clock at Schoenbrunn Castle, according to a Reuter dispatch from Vienna, by way of Amsterdam.

The death of the Emperor was expected. He has been confined to his bed for some time and recent bulletins from his bedside bore the news to a sympathetic populace that he was sinking fast.

The illness that preceded the Emperor's death demonstrated that the aged man was vigorous despite his many years, as fact which did not make easy the labors of his physicians. Until his death, the patient was inclined to disobey orders laid down for him, insisting, for instance, on giving daily audiences, some of them lasting an hour. Monday Premier von Koerber was with the Emperor an hour.

BRICKING DONE

Contractors Vastine, Noland & Lowrey have finished bricking the Second street extension and the street will be all tarred and ready for opening by Saturday morning at the very latest. They were held back on this street by the failure of their bricks to arrive. They have finished concreting Carmel street and will do some of the bricking this week.

TOBACCO FAIR

And Corn Show Will Open Thursday at Noon—Exhibits Received Now—Large Crowds Expected.

The decorators and other workmen were busy all day yesterday and far into the night preparing for the Tobacco Fair and Corn Show in this city in the Liberty Warehouse Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. A large number of workmen are on hand from Cincinnati, while a number of local men are engaged in doing minor work.

The decorations around the walls of the warehouse were put up yesterday and today the southern smilax will be placed in position. One thousand yards of the American Flag decorations were used in the work and there will be 1000 pounds of the smilax suspended from the roof. The floor of the house has been freshly oiled and with the 400 newel posts used in making the corners of the various booths the place will be very attractive, even without the booth displays.

There will be ample lighting and heating for the warehouse and many have already asked concerning the latter. Two gas furnaces have been placed in the building and numerous other smaller gas stoves will give more than a sufficiency of heat for the huge warehouse. Through the arrangements for the heating no one will become cold as many have naturally suspected. The building will be lighted by 28 arc lights and more than 100 75-watt electric lamps. These have been distributed over the building so as to give the best light where most needed.

The workmen expect to finish their decorating today and all that will remain to be done will be the decorating of the various booths and the arrangements of the exhibitions. Late yesterday afternoon, none of the merchants had begun on their booth displays but a large number of the owners of booth space have their material for the decorating of the same prepared and will move the same to the building today or early tomorrow morning. The booths will all be decorated in time for the official opening at noon Thursday.

A number of exhibits were brought to the warehouse yesterday all day and placed in the hands of the gentlemen in charge of the various departments. A large number are expected to arrive this afternoon and tomorrow morning, but exhibits will not be accepted after 10:30 a. m. tomorrow morning. Please bear this in mind as the rule must be enforced so as to allow the committee in charge time enough to prepare the various articles for exhibition.

Nearly all of the members of the attractions for the three days are in the city awaiting the time of the opening of the fair. Their acts will be given a different periods of the day, the same to be announced from the stage in the center of the room. These attractions will be free as a small admission fee of ten cents will be charged at the door to help bear the expenses of the fair. No other charge will be made for anything on the inside, except a palmit.

Season passes will be given to all exhibitors in Departments A, B, C, D, and E, as the exhibit in these departments become the property of the fair management as soon as the show is over. Three passes will also be issued to each holder of booth space. The baby contest will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock promptly. The rules for this contest will be found on the card giving the list of prizes. The Tobacco Fair and Corn Show in the first year of its history promises to be one of the best thing ever pulled off in Maysville and those back of it want it to excel anything of its kind in the state and adjoining states. They urge every Maysvillian to get into the spirit of the fair and to boost for it, thereby boosting Maysville. The managers feel it will be a great success and if so will plan it on a much larger scale for next year.

DOING GOOD WORK

The contractors on the Lock and Dam No. 33 just above the city are making excellent progress in their work. They have had excellent weather this fall for the work and the stage of the river has been such as to greatly aid the work. The contractors will work until the river rises over the cofferdam.

The ladies of the Washington Consolidated School will serve Thanksgiving dinner at the new High School building in Washington beginning at 12 o'clock on Thursday, November 30. The public is cordially invited. Charge 25 cents a plate.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowman left yesterday for Newport, Ky., where they will make their home after being located here for a few weeks.

Mr. J. E. McChord of East Second street was a business visitor in Augusta yesterday.

In the Christian Church prayer meeting tonight there will be the beginning of the study of the Gospel of John. Taking chapter by chapter. These services in which the members take part freely and voluntarily are very interesting. Those not accustomed to speak in public will profit in hearing the other scriptures used. Meeting begins at seven.

WING NET

Found in River Near South Ripley Last Summer Proves to Be Rather Costly to Owner—Is Fined $25 and Costs.

In Squire Bauers Court yesterday morning Arthur Adkins of Covington was fined $25 and costs for fishing with a wing net in the Ohio River on the Kentucky side. Adkins is a mail carrier in Covington.

The prosecution brought out the fact that Deputy Game Warden Sidwell of South Ripley, while passing down the river in his motorboat one day last summer ran into a net with his boat and the propeller became entangled in the net. Going on down the river a short distance he met Adkins Gill Edwards, Edwards' son and another man in a boat. He remarked to them that he had run into the net and asked where he could find the owner as he wished to pay for the damage done. Adkins replied that he had had the net out only a few days and had just finished making repairs on the same. Mr. Sidwell then informed them that he was a deputy game warden and for the men to consider themselves under arrest. The man endeavored to pass it off by saying that the net belonged to young Edwards and that he had merely made some repairs in it for the boy.

Adkins said that for the past fifteen years he had been coming every summer of the place and had never violated the law in anyway. He said that at the time he was arrested by Sidwell that he was not using the net himself but had merely repaired it for Edwards.

Adkins was re-arrested by Constable James McNamara in Covington on last Friday for the offense.

Adkins will appeal his case to the next term of the Mason Circuit Court. The trial of Gill Edwards for the same offense will be held on next Monday before Squire Bauer.

Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use therefore, results in an actual saving.

THE GOLDEN STREAM

A current statement shows that the stock of gold, in bar or coin in the United States has reached the enormous amount of $2,636,009,564. Before the war it was customary to claim the possession of two billions gold, as a round figure. On the first of August, 1914, the stock actually was $1,887,270,674. Word now comes that more gold will soon be on the way overseas.

"If they want gold, we can drown them with it," declared the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, cheerfully, in the early months of the war. "If the war continues another year we may have half the gold stock of the world"—our Secretary of the Treasury made that forecast the other day, and the prospect appeared to give him great joy.

Secretary McAdoo appears not to understand that the mere possession of gold is of no consequence. Locked up, as the Germans locked up the French indemnity of their "war chest," the Spandau Tower, gold is nothing but dead metal. It is of no more value than pig iron would be if the possessor refused to release it to the blast furnaces—or the furnaces would not take it.

The effect of the golden stream is not confined to financial circles. Everybody is feeling it. The man in the street never sees the gold, but he cannot escape the effect. Gold is cheap, and it is the only commodity that is cheap. Unfortunately, we cannot eat it, or make our clothes of it, or build gold houses or use it to keep the house warm. While gold is cheap, the necessities of life are expensive. If Mr. McAdoo's bright dream of possessing half the gold in the world should come true, goodness knows what bread and bacon would cost.—Providence Journal.

DOMESTIC MATTERS TREATED IN MESSAGE

Washington, November 20—President Wilson practically completed his next annual message to Congress today, and plans to put the finishing touches on it tomorrow. It will be devoted almost entirely to domestic matters and will deal primarily with legislative questions recommended to Congress previously, and not finally settled.

The principal items in the message are understood to be railroad legislation to meet the situation created by the threatened railroad strike last August; a measure to allow American exporters to form common selling agencies abroad; conservation bills; a corrupt practices measure, and the Porto Rico bill.

Governor Arthur Yager, of Porto Rico, was at the White House today and expects to see the President within a few days to urge that action on the Porto Rico bill be taken before the usual Christmas recess of Congress. Governor Yager said that until the bill is passed giving citizenship to Porto Ricans agitation for the independence of the island will continue.

TOO DANGEROUS TO OVERLOOK

Maysville People Will Do Well to Heed the Warning.

To have good health, the digestion, heart, lungs and kidneys must work perfectly. When there is anything wrong with the digestion, heart or lungs, a very noticeable pain or distress gives prompt warning. Kidney trouble is more easily overlooked, however, and too often gains a long start. But kidney trouble does give early signs, and backache, headache, dizzy spells, rheumatic pains, too frequent, scanty or painful urination should not be neglected. When these warnings appear, use Doan's Kidney Pills, the reliable, successful, strongly recommended kidney remedy. Assist the medicine by taking things easier, reducing the diet and the use of liquors. A severe attack of kidney disease may be avoided. Doan's Kidney Pills have won the grateful praise of Maysville people. Read this Maysville resident's endorsement.

W. F. Lynch, 127 W. Third St., Maysville, says: "My kidneys were weak and the passage of the kidney secretions were scanty and painful. Having used Doan's Kidney Pills before, I again got a box. They quickly restored my kidneys to a normal condition."

NAVAL BUDGET FOR 1918 BEGUN

Washington, November 20—While Secretary Daniels was awarding contracts today for armor plate for the four battleships authorized at the last session of Congress and approving plan for an ammunition ship, the last vessel designed for the 1917 building program, the appropriation sub-committee of the House Naval Committee began work on the 1918 estimates, the heaviest in American history, to be presented to Congress this winter.

The Navy Department's 1918 figures contemplate construction of half of the ships to be built in the great three-year program, and show total appropriations of $379,151,701, or more than $66,000,000 in excess of the record total appropriation last summer.

Contracts for the armor plate, which will go on the Colorado, Maryland, Washington and West Virginia, were awarded to the Bethlehem and Carnegie Steel Companies, each receiving half of the work. A statement analyzing the contracts says that despite the unprecedented European demand for plate, the prices offered were approximately the same as those paid three years ago when the Pennsylvania was being constructed. The figures are: Armor plate, Class A-1, 14,479.2 tons to each company at $420 a ton to Bethlehem and $425 to Carnegie; 820 tons of A-2 Class to each at $485 a ton to Bethlehem and $460 to Carnegie.

The department estimates before the House sub-committee call for funds to begin construction of three battleships, one battle cruiser, three scout cruisers, sixteen destroyers, four fleet submarines, fourteen coast submarines, one submarine tender and one destroyer tender. It is understood that the General Board urged that the two battle cruisers remaining on the three-year program and four of the six battleships be placed in the 1918 estimates. The department decided, however, to divide the new construction equally between the 1918 and 1919

LONG PATH

Lies Out in Front of Those Who Seek To Bring Shorter Day—Adoption of Eight-Hour Plan Will Cause Many Upsets — Gotham Stock Market Rans From Editors and Reporters.

New York, November 20—The stock market ran away from the newspapers last Thursday.

The public bought stocks while the editors and reporters were giving adverse opinions as to home conditions and arguing that there was an irrepressible conflict between employers and employees.

Steel rails advanced $6 per ton; copper metal was in most urgent demand; shipbuilding was reported as in a state of development that insured a tremendous demand for structural steel and that would place this country soon abreast of the tonnage turned out by leading European nations; cotton and grain were booming, and buyers of stocks simply ignored the newspaper reports and editorials as to differences between employers and employees, and wired their orders to buy stocks, so that they put the market into a wild and dangerous rush to higher prices.

Bears Start Rumor
The debate in the British Parliament as to the measures to be taken to cut down the rations of the British people made a great impression upon holders of grain and provisions, and prices of these immediately became firmer and the bears in provisions at once started the rumor that the President was considering an embargo upon wheat, but even that baseless news did not produce the decline in price desired by the authors.

The truth is that throughout the East, and indeed in every section of the country, prosperity is rampant, and commodities and labor are very scarce and very high.

In manufacturing, in construction work, in every class of business where materials have to be obtained or labor employed, prosperity is now adding to the costs and the difficulties in outputting or completing.

Many contractors who took their contracts even six months ago upon fair margins of profits are finding those changed into losses owing to higher costs of material, difficulty in obtaining materials in time for their purposes and the much higher rates of wages they are compelled to pay their employees.

Rail Conditions Poor
Some classes of metals have advanced fully 40 per cent in prices since January 1, 1916, while shipments of materials by rail cannot be depended upon owing to the scarcity of cars, as well as to the sold-out conditions prevalent at the sources of supply.

Some manufacturers were speaking yesterday of the recent order of the German Government that no persons able to work and who were under the age of 60 years should be permitted to remain idle, and they said they would hail such an order in this country with delight, for if it were put in force here it would add to the numbers of producers and enable them to output to an extent much closer to the demand than they were able to do at the present time.

I find great confidence everywhere in the nation's and the world's continued demand for the products and outputs of the United States, but I find in my interviews with manufacturers and contractors in New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania rapid advances in prices of materials and labor have upset calculations and are making men timid as to entering into contracts or accepting orders for future work or delivery.

The wild rush upward of stocks is adding to the turmoil, and I find that conservative men are fearful of failure to adjust the differences now so apparent as between employers and employees.

These words express the situation far more correctly than speaking of these differences as between capital and labor.

Long Path Lies Ahead
The President's statement that society has accepted the eight-hour day may be true in theory, and even to some extent in substance, but there seems a long and tedious path between the announcement and the natural establishment of the idea.

There are so many adjustments to be made before the eight-hour day prevails in all branches of employment.

Housekeepers now complain that an eight-hour day for their cooks, their housemaids, their servants generally compels a doubling of the numbers of the persons employed, and that this in view of the scarcity of labor is on impossibility, leaving out of the question of the doubling of the expense.

Cutters, chauffeurs, elevator men, farm laborers, watchmen, sailors, messengers, and indeed all classes of employees are now looking for the recognition of the eight-hour day by their employers and are preparing to demand that society recognition of the eight-hour day which the President spoke of, and this is certain to produce much friction, tend to unsteadiness in affairs, even if it does not disrupt and transform many established lines of business.

The unit of service and of service pay is now changed. It will no longer be the day, but the hour which will be the basis of pay in the near future in nearly all affairs. It has been the

AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation." — Mrs. JOHN A. KOENIG, 602 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or, if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

Parties returning from Europe say that it is all bosh to talk of the war continuing through the year 1917. The populations of Europe will not stand much longer for the continual slaughter of their relatives and friends. These expressions of politicians, so-called statesmen, as to carrying on the struggle until their side obtains victory is mere bluffing now, and they are fully aware that bankruptcy and revolution both will be found in the summer and autumn of 1917 if the war continues that long.

The Monarchs on both sides know they are risking their crowns by prolongation of the war.

They all want it to cease because

Maysville Telephone Co. is a Maysville Institution

It was designed and financed and built to serve a local need. It has been in operation many years and has always kept up-to-date. It has been recently rebuilt—inside and outside—and is in better position to serve its patrons than Company's in cities many times larger than Maysville. Our equipment is new and we connect with both of the Long-distance Companies. It is managed and operated by local people whose object is to give the best possible service at rates as low as is consistent with a fair return on the investment. It deserves your patronage—it deserves your support.

HUNDREDS CLIP MOVIE COUPONS

First Day of Free Movie Money Keeps Scissors Busy Snipping—ON To a Good Start.

FREE movies today; Who would have dreamed that the moving picture theaters of Maysville would ever throw wide their doors and invite the public to enter without money and with price?

Step up, kiddies; here's where you don't have to crawl under a tent or carry water to the elephant. You needn't hunt a knothole; just kindly step around to the main entrance. Really we have just begun to live.

For a new year in motion picture in Maysville began today. The pictures will be just as good as ever but the formality of pay will be abolished. Through its great, generous offer, the Ledger is making it possible for all her readers to attend the movies free.

The first coupon appeared in Monday's Ledger. Hundreds of people clipped them out carefully and got in on the ground floor in this new money-making proposition. Everybody seemed to be anxious to get the first day's coupons so not a single issue would be lost. With Monday's coupon neatly stowed away where it will be safe, today's Ledger with its free movie coupon is keenly awaited.

Yesterday's made two, today's three, tomorrow's four, and its going to be quick work. You will soon have enough to bring them to the Ledger's office and exchange them for MUTUAL MOVIE STAMPS. Then, for you, the free movies will be a reality.

To those who did not clip yesterday's coupon, its not too late to begin. Get today's coupon—clip it as carefully as you would money—for that is really what it is. Start your collection today if you didn't yesterday. There were a few yesterday who neglected to clip the coupons. Each coupon was worth just exactly 1-5 of a cent to you, yet some few persons passed it up. But, judging, from reports today, it is safe to say that the large majority of yesterday's Ledgers went into the wastebasket minus the little movie coupons. Few who really understand the free movie plan over looked it.

Besides admitting to the movies free when pasted on the 25 stamp cards, the MUTUAL MOVIE STAMPS are also good for cash, merchandise of premiums.

Remember, its perfectly free. There are no catches, not even red tape to bother with. Its a gift. If you want it you can't please the Ledger any better than accepting it.

Ask your merchants with every purchase for Mutual Movie Stamps so that your collection will grow faster.

THE PUBLIC LEDGER DAILY MUTUAL MOVIE STAMP COUPON

One of these coupons good for one Mutual Movie Stamp when presented at the Ledger office or at any merchants who give and redeem Mutual Movie Stamps.

KELLERMAN CONCERT

Draws a Large Crowd Last Night and All Are Delighted With the Wonderful Baritone.

The Marcus Kellerman Concert at the Washington Opera House last evening for the benefit of the Mason County Health League attracted a very large crowd of persons interested in the work of the singer and also in the Health League.

Mr. Kellerman's work was of the most brilliant type. From the moment he uttered the first note he held his audience spellbound. In addition to the fact that he is a wonderful singer he also combined a splendid dramatic talent which added much to the effectiveness of his singing. His accompanying artists also came in for a generous share of the applause.

Those in charge of the entertainment were well pleased with the results of the entertainment, a neat sum being realized from it. This money will be used in purchasing an auto for the health nurse, Miss Kellogg. Already a sum of money had been obtained for this purpose but it was not quite enough. With the sum obtained last evening the auto will be bought and the nurse will be enabled to make her calls much more rapidly.

REJOICING CHANGED

(Portsmouth Times)

The joys felt by the family over the advent of a new baby, in their midst, were changed to sorrow when Daulton Bros., well known West End grocers, received word that a cousin, Lemuel Daulton, aged 60 years, a traveling salesman, of Maysville, Ky., had dropped dead in the street of Aberdeen, O., Monday morning.

The family was rejoicing over the birth of a nine-pound baby son born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Daulton, of Seventh street, near Lincoln. The child is their first born and brought to J. W. Daulton the new title of grandpa, of which he felt so proud that he insisted upon the youngster being named William, after himself. Within a short time after the happy news had been received, Mr. Daulton was summoned to a telephone and told of his relative's sudden taking off.

Lemuel Daulton was a hearty man of strong constitution and the picture of health when he last visited Portsmouth, he coming here the night U. S. Senator Warren G. Harding addressed a Republican rally recently. For many years he was engaged in the cigar business under the firm name of Power & Daulton at Maysville, but in recent years had been on the road for Reed & Murdock, wholesale grocers of Chicago. He was a widower and is survived by a number of grown children. He was an Odd Fellow, Knight of Pythias and member of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Daulton and Jack Daulton expect to go to Maysville Tuesday to attend the funeral.

CALL DILLHOFFER WONDER

Chicago, November 20—The "Ray Schalk of the National League" has been found, according to officials of the Chicago National League Club. The youngster whom the scouts have recommended as the coming leading catcher of the National League, is William "Pickles" Dillhoefer. Dillhoefer was obtained from the Milwaukee Club of the American Association by draft. He is 21 years of age and bats and throws right handed. He is built like his American League rival, and weighs 155 pounds. His height is five feet eight inches. He was born in Cleveland, O., and makes his residence there. "Pickles" started his baseball career with Portsmouth (O.) Club in the Ohio State League in 1914.

Stories from the scouts who trained the youngster, told how his every move had been watched. It is understood that practically every club in the National and American Leagues had a draft in for him.

Recently two scouts who had been looking him over and who are well acquainted with the ability of Ray Schalk when he broke into the fast company, declared that Dillhoefer is a better prospect than was Schalk when he joined Comiskey's White Sox.

Dillhoefer is known as a heady player, full of "pep," fast and with a strong "whip." In the words of Joe Tinker and Charles Weeghman, it will take "some" catcher to deprive the youngster of a place as a regular on the catching staff for 1917.

YELLOW RACE FIGHTS U. S.

The yellow race's love for the United States is plainly shown in "The Yellow Menace," the tremendous sixteen-episode serial that starts at the Pastime today. "The Yellow Menace" is a special attraction at the Pastime every Wednesday. Charlie Chaplin cartoon comedy and two other pictures will be shown today.

Miss Rebecca Hechinger of Front street spent the day in Cincinnati yesterday.
